Lyres/flip folders – These are usually used to hold music for the show music and pep band music. We are currently working toward a paperless option for TMB where students would use lyres that hold their phones and they would be able to use that for music and drill. These types of lyres are much more commonly used now, especially in college marching bands like the Marching Illini. We are still making the ones that hold paper copies of music available at this time.
